Engineering Journal/Revue de l'Ingénierie
Annual Index/Document de références
Volume 64, 1981

Articles

Communicating engineering to the public a necessity, Susan Baka, No. 4 (August), pp. 42-44.
95th Congress—Hamilton 1981, Ian Reid, No. 2 (April), p. 16.
Co-operative approach possible for western industrial research parks, R.C. Quittenton, No. 2 (April), pp. 39-41.
The Decade Ahead—Manufacturing and Materials, Ian Reid, No. 3 (June), pp. 3-8.
Hydrodynamic tire balancing shows promise, Alex Winch, No. 2 (April), pp. 42-43.

Special Reports

Manufacturing in the 80's—Working environment and product liability, No. 1 (February)
Design for reliability in natural gas distribution systems, R.G. Riedl, pp. 41-43.
Ensuring reliability through product design, Dave Roberston, pp. 14-15.
Health and safety problems facing the metallurgical industry, John Taylor, pp. 34-40.
North American productivity—the honeymoon is over, John A. Roth, pp. 5-7.
Products liability: a legal perspective, Stephen M. Waddams, pp. 8-13.
Special Congress Preview, pp. 21-27.

Economic decision-making, No. 2 (April)
Capital investment complex in times of uncertainty, F.R. Denham, pp. 3-6.
Corporate finance necessary for engineering firms, S.R.G. Gonin, pp. 11-13.
Cost-benefit analysis increasingly relevant, L.J. Brooks, Jr., pp. 35-38.
Derivation and application of reliability and maintainability values, R.J. Walters, pp. 6-10.

New energies for the year 2,000, No. 3 (June)
Alternate vehicle fuels pose challenge for future, D.E. Mathers, pp. 13-16.
Conservation energy is powerful fuel substitute, D.B. Brooks and P.A. Adams, pp. 37-39.
Fusion energy projects growing in Canada, M.P. Bachynski, pp. 40-43.
Hydrogen is inevitable: why and when?, David S. Scott, pp. 9-12.
Solving the energy problem: why are we failing?. George Sinclair, pp. 34-36.

Manufacturing—1981 Congress Papers, No. 4 (August)
CAD/CAM—a challenge and opportunity for Canadian industry, J. Scrimgeour, pp. 6-12.
Maintenance management decision making, A.K.S. Jardine, pp. 37-41.
Plastics: the emerging giant, E.R. Evason, pp. 3-5.
The successful application of management principles in Canadian Industry, P.J. Phoenix, pp. 13-15.

Electronic Communications—Present and Future, No. 5 (Fall/Winter)
Alberta introduces automatic mobile telephone system, J. Pulford, pp. 52-53.
Competition enhances Canadian telecommunications industry, J.G. Sutherland, pp. 48-51.
Electronic communications—a pragmatic evolution, C. Denis Hall, pp. 43-47.
Electronic communications promise dynamic growth, D.A. George, pp. 10-14.
Electronic 'Office of the Future' becoming present-day reality, Douglas F. Parkhill, pp. 20-22.
Has Telidon arrived? J.C. Madden, pp. 15-19.
Taming the tiger, G.E. Inns, pp. 5-9.

Engineering Journal/Revue de l'Ingénierie
Annual Index/Document de références
Volume 64, 1981

Articles

Communicating engineering to the public a necessity, Susan Baka, No. 4 (August), pp. 42-44.
95th Congress—Hamilton 1981, Ian Reid, No. 2 (April), p. 16.
Co-operative approach possible for western industrial research parks, R.C. Quittenton, No. 2 (April), pp. 39-41.
The Decade Ahead—Manufacturing and Materials, Ian Reid, No. 3 (June), pp. 3-8.
Hydrodynamic tire balancing shows promise, Alex Winch, No. 2 (April), pp. 42-43.

Special Reports

Manufacturing in the 80's—Working environment and product liability, No. 1 (February)
Design for reliability in natural gas distribution systems, R.G. Riedl, pp. 41-43.
Ensuring reliability through product design, Dave Roberston, pp. 14-15.
Health and safety problems facing the metallurgical industry, John Taylor, pp. 34-40.
North American productivity—the honeymoon is over, John A. Roth, pp. 5-7.
Products liability: a legal perspective, Stephen M. Waddams, pp. 8-13.
Special Congress Preview, pp. 21-27.

Economic decision-making, No. 2 (April)
Capital investment complex in times of uncertainty, F.R. Denham, pp. 3-6.
Corporate finance necessary for engineering firms, S.R.G. Gonin, pp. 11-13.
Cost-benefit analysis increasingly relevant, L.J. Brooks, Jr., pp. 35-38.
Derivation and application of reliability and maintainability values, R.J. Walters, pp. 6-10.

New energies for the year 2,000, No. 3 (June)
Alternate vehicle fuels pose challenge for future, D.E. Mathers, pp. 13-16.
Conservation energy is powerful fuel substitute, D.B. Brooks and P.A. Adams, pp. 37-39.
Fusion energy projects growing in Canada, M.P. Bachynski, pp. 40-43.
Hydrogen is inevitable: why and when?, David S. Scott, pp. 9-12.
Solving the energy problem: why are we failing?. George Sinclair, pp. 34-36.

Manufacturing—1981 Congress Papers, No. 4 (August)
CAD/CAM—a challenge and opportunity for Canadian industry, J. Scrimgeour, pp. 6-12.
Maintenance management decision making, A.K.S. Jardine, pp. 37-41.
Plastics: the emerging giant, E.R. Evason, pp. 3-5.
The successful application of management principles in Canadian Industry, P.J. Phoenix, pp. 13-15.

Electronic Communications—Present and Future, No. 5 (Fall/Winter)
Alberta introduces automatic mobile telephone system, J. Pulford, pp. 52-53.
Competition enhances Canadian telecommunications industry, J.G. Sutherland, pp. 48-51.
Electronic communications—a pragmatic evolution, C. Denis Hall, pp. 43-47.
Electronic communications promise dynamic growth, D.A. George, pp. 10-14.
Electronic 'Office of the Future' becoming present-day reality, Douglas F. Parkhill, pp. 20-22.
Has Telidon arrived? J.C. Madden, pp. 15-19.
Taming the tiger, G.E. Inns, pp. 5-9.